NOTES

25X1

Pakistan-Afghanistan: Pakistan's President Ayub has agreed to the restoration of Afghan-Pakistani relations and is seeking to bring this about speedily. He is telling the Afghans they will be permitted to reopen all the offices they maintained in Pakistan before the break in relations in September 1961, including the important consulate in Peshawar. The Iranian foreign minister, who received this information and is passing it to Kabul, is suggesting an early meeting in Tehran to conclude arrangements.

Iran: Dissident tribal forces in southwestern Iran have reportedly increased their strength, and local military authorities fear that elements of the important Qashqai and Bakhtiari tribes may soon join other tribesmen who are already fighting government forces. An additional army battalion is to be moved into position to keep them separated. A paratroop battalion reportedly is in trouble after being surrounded by a force of 1,500 tribesmen northwest of Shiraz.

Iraq: (The failure of the Iraqi regime and Kurdish leaders to agree on steps to implement their 8 March preliminary agreement on Kurdish autonomy may cause the Kurds soon to resume open rebellion. Baghdad now is stalling on Kurdish demands for local autonomy while strengthening its military position in the area. The sweeping nature of the Kurds' recent proposals may have stiffened opponents of a settlement in Baghdad.) [Map]
